Freeman Lad Drowned Bathing

RALPH FREEMAN, AGE 13 YRS., VICTIM OF CIRCUMSTANCES

Over exercise Tuesday forenoon, a hearty dinner, and then going bathing caused the death by drowning of Ralph, 13-year-old son of Alvin Freeman, residing on the West Side.

The lad failed to come home Tuesday night and his father phoned Chief of Police Simmons about the matter. Little was thought of his absence, thinking the lad would return later on. Wednesday morning the lad had not shown up and a search was started.

Chief Simmons finally located the lad's clothing together with a wash cloth, towel and soap at the rear of one of the Cedar Cove Cabins of Carl Shedina. The Charlevoix Coast Guard were notified and Louis Halstad and Stephen Flees responded. Wednesday forenoon was spent in dragging for the body and that afternoon about 2:25 o'clock the body was picked up about 120 yards from shore off the Shedina Cabins and in about 12 feet of water. Coroner McMillan of Charlevoix pronounced death from drowning, probably induced by cramps. The body was taken to the Watson Funeral Home.

As yet funeral arrangements have not been made. If arrangements are made in time, notice of same will appear on Local Page of this Herald.

Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of America, Local 364

We met Wednesday evening, June 4, at Wilson Grange Hall with a good attendance of members and a few visitors. Hilbert Hardy, our legislative Secretary, read us an article sent by the president then Roy Hardy read us an article that was pertaining to keeping little farmers on the farm which was a very good article. It was an all around good meeting followed by a short program and pot luck supper. Let more farmers come join us and help to keep the little farmers farming.

Several from this Local went over to South Arm to County meeting, May 29. Carl Witte, state organizer spoke and gave us a good talk. All would like to hear him again soon. South Arm Local served us a lovely supper of pancakes, maple syrup, sausage and coffee.

Mrs. Alvin Mason,
Sec'y, Treasurer.

"Old Timers" Have Picnic and Get-Together, Sunday, June 8

Sunday, June 8 a second Northern Michigan "old timers" picnic was held at Huron River Park on M-56 between New Boston and Flat Rock. Some who attended last year were unable to come while others joined the crowd for the first time.

Lots to eat, picture taking, ball playing and much visiting provided the entertainment for the thirty-six.

It is hoped to make this an annual affair around the fore part of June. Perhaps another year an announcement in the Charlevoix County Herald a couple of weeks previous to the date can be made so that any other "old timers" who care to join the fun and crowd can do so.

Those who attended were:—

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dedoes and children Judy, Jerry and Nancy of Huntington Woods; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Malpass, Jr., Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Blair, Detroit; Mrs. Gladys McKinnon, East Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Quinn and childrenTommy, Michael and Roger of Lincoln Park; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagner and children Gretchen and Kathryn of Wyandotte; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wagner, Wyandotte; Mr. and Mrs. George Sarkozy and children George, Douglas, and DeAnn of Dearnborn; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Witherspoon and son Eddie of Dearborn; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Saunders and daughter Carol Ann of East Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Saunders and sons Robert and Lynn of Romulus.

"What was a serious accident happened at Mr. McKenny's farm Tuesday afternoon when Ed Guerner lost his right hand by reaching under a wood buzz saw for a stick of wood. The hand was so mangled that Drs. Sweet and Warne amputated the hand above the wrist. Ed is an industrious young man and the accident will be quite a hindrance as he was the mainstay doing the farm work."

New Life Begins For Nazi Survivors

AN ANCIENT ART: In one of the 250 training centers in 14 European countries maintained with funds provided by the United Jewish Appeal, the Joint Distribution Committee teaches the art of net-weaving to young Jewish men and women who are preparing for a new life in Palestine. Some 32,000 survivors received training in other J.D.C. vocational centers last year. The $170,000,000 United Jewish Appeal will make possible the expansion of this vital work program for the 250,000 Jewish D.P.'s in Germany, Austria and Italy.

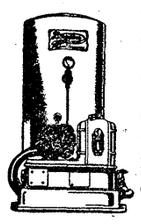

Short Cooking Time

Today, food specialists tell us the shorter the cooking time, the more food values we save. Instead of long slow cooking it's better to keep vegetables at boiling and shorten the time.

THE husband usually gets what he wants if it means a saving in time or labor. If husbands had to do the family wash, few homes would be without running water under pressure.

What folly to tolerate the inconvenience of pumping, lifting and carrying water from the well when a DAYTON (to do it for you) can be had for so little. Once installed, just a few cents a week keeps it going. It is entirely automatic, trouble free and guaranteed. Let us give you an estimate. No obligation.

Captain of Industry

Butch wants a bicycle. Lots of lawn and lemonade and baby-sitting lie between Butch and that bike, but we're betting on the boy. He has energy, vision, and our national habit of working hard for what he wants. He's American business—in miniature.

There are many names for Butch's philosophy. You can call it Free Enterprise, Opportunity, Democracy, or Capitalism, if you want.

But, whatever the name, America owes it much. For our most valuable natural resource lies in the ambition and initiative of Americans like Butch.

As great publications have grown from the dreams of young men with old hand-presses—the electric industry had small beginnings, too. A few men with vision strung the first short lines. People with faith risked their savings. Better and better service, at lower and lower cost, created more and more jobs—and carried the benefits of electric living to more and more people.

Free enterprise—and hard work—will bring Butch and his bike together. They are what built America and the American way of life. No nation on earth has found a satisfactory substitute for that combination.

Michigan Mirror

Michigan is headed back to red ink financing of state government. A state treasury deficit is forseen as the result of legislators' reluctance to enact new taxes and the constitutional mandate to divert 76 per cent of the state sales tax to local governments including public schools.

Several capital newspaper correspondents, who watch daily the parade of events at Lansing, confide that the inevitability of new taxes in 1948 will hurt Governor Sigler's chances of re-election. The governor insistence that the legislature must lead itself also hasn't helped matters. The Detroit Free Press, one of Kim's original bellringers, smartly criticizes the governor for lack of leadership. Excerpt: "Instead of creating behind him the power of public opinion to force enactment of his purpose, his (Sigler) publicity has been largely given over to the fun he is having with his new pilot's license and his plane. This has not set well with the voters of Michigan." Sigler has 18 more months to go before the voters will weigh the record. He has shown a tolerant willingness to take criticism provided it is constructive.

Root of Michigan's tax troubles lies in the deep antagonism between rural and urban interests, the fear of rural legislators that the legislature will be dominated by cities, and the lack of urban representatiion at Lansing although cities foot most of the tax bills. Less one-half of the counties are self-supporting through taxes. Put this on your phonograph, and you go around and around. Your conclusion will depend largely upon your viewpoint. The Highland Parker, sunburban newspaper of Detroit, advocates a constitutional amendment to assure that each county will get back its "just share" of taxes.

Governor Sigler's recomendation for a constitutional study commission was approved by the house, but rejected by the senate. Since the constitution was adopted in 1909, a total of 91 amendments have been submitted to the voters at elections. Of these, 43 were approved.

Like Alice in Wonderland who cried before she picked a finger, the General Motors' "Train of Tomorrow" permits a traveler to see where he is going before h gets there Which is to say that this writer was among the passengers on the Lansing-to-Detroit run last week and viewed the approaching landscape through the "Astra-Dome" on top of the train coaches. It's an inclosed air-conditioned observatory. The noiseless glide of the Diesel-powered train is another feature which herald's tomorrow's railroad transportation.

Retailers complain in a national survey that most clerks are inefficient and must be re-trained to give prompt, intelligent customer service. Another straw in the wind.

Union bricklayers on state construction jobs are laying only 300 bricks a day compared with 1,000 prewar, says A. N. Languis, state building director. Low efficiency of union labor is blamed by Languis for high costs. Example: A Caro state hospital building in 1939 for $81.143, is being duplicated this year. The 1947 cost will exceed $280,000. Same building, but $200,000 more!

As a curb on juvenile drivers, the Michigan legislature adopted a bill raising the minimum age from 14 to 16. However, licenses can be issued "in cases of necessity" where parents agree to assume full responsibility.

JUDAH'S APPROACHING DOOM

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 36:2, 3, 28-31; II Kings 24:1-4.
MEMORY SELECTION—The fear of the Lord prolongeth days; but the years of the wicked shall be shortened.—Proverbs 10:27.

The decline of a nation from strength and glory to weakness and shame is always a sad thing to contemplate. Still worse is the evident cause of such decay in the sinfulness of the people and their stubborn rejection of God's mercy and grace.

The religious reforms in Judah under Josiah were only temporary in their effect on the people; partly because of their own insincerity, and partly because Josiah was soon killed in battle. Yet God did not leave his wandering people without good counsel, for it was in those days that the great prophet Jeremiah ministered. He had been the helper of Josiah in his good purposes; now he continued to plead with Judah to submit themselves to God and to his will.

His efforts proved to be fruitless as far as Judah was concerned, for we see that

I. Judah Would Not Respond to God's Mercy (Jer. 36:2, 3).

God commanded his prophet to write down his words in order that the people might not only know the inevitable impending judgment, but especially be reminded of God's desire that they should turn from their evil ways and be forgiven.

One would have thought that they would have responded to such mercy with an immediate and grateful return to the Lord, but they did not.

Jeremiah, a unique man of great ability, was so tenderhearted that he has often been called the weeping prophet. Do not infer that he was a weak, emotional character, for he was strong in the Lord, and courageous in the face of rejection and persecution. He urged upon Judah the necessity of submitting to Babylon, to whom God had given power, and above all to the Lord, for a spiritual cleansing and revival.

Our second section brings before us the further sin of King Jehoiakim, who led his nation on to destruction. We see that

II. Judah Would Not Receive God's Word (Jer. 36:28-31).

At God's command Jeremiah and his scribe Baruch had prepared the scroll with God's Word upon it. One of the nation's leaders was moved by it, and through his urging, the scroll was brought to the attention of the king.

Jehoiakim, sitting before the fire, heard only part of it, and then in defiance of God he took a penknife and cut it up and burned it.

One cannot help but think of those in our day who call themselves modern thinkers, or liberals, who have also used their penknifes on God's Word. They cut out of the Bible everything they do not like, and offer the hungry people the stone of their own philosophies in place of the Bread of life. Think what their judgment will be!

God's Word is not so easily gotten out of the way! The prophet was commanded to rewrite the scroll, and in it to declare the awful judgment of God upon the one who mutilated his Word.

To try to destroy God's truth by fire and violence is as fruitless as to try to tear the stars from the heavens or to keep the sun from shining. The wicked leaders of a great nation have tried that once more in recent years, and they now lie dead for their sins, with the nation a subject people, broken and all but destroyed.

One wonders why those who profess to serve the Lord will engage in such activity, even as one wonders at Judah, a favored people of God, refusing to receive his Word.

God is not willing to give up, and now tries chastisement. But we see that

III. Judah Would Not Recognize God's Providences (II Kings 24: 1-4).

Jehoiakim had become the vassal of Babylon, but after three years he decided to try to throw off the yoke of his oppressor, Nebuchadnezzar. He was not able at the time to deal with the situation, and so he incited marauding bands from various other nations to harass Judah.

We see, however, that this came about at the commandment of God (vv. 2, 3). Evidently he was now using the distressing experiences of life to turn Judah back to him; but once again it proved to be in vain.

God does deal with men through what we call his providences, and these may include not only his mercies, but his chastisement. Trouble and sorrow may be God's means of leading us to the place of repentance and blessing.

What folly it is to disregard the hand of God in our daily lives, or to become embittered at the circumstances which are intended to bring us to God's place of blessing. Happy is the man or woman who, being reproved in this way, profits by the Lord's admonition (Heb. 12: 11).

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Urges Training Program; Federal Rent Controls Extended; Big Crop Loss Seen in Midwest

Released by Western Newspaper Union

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Charred fuselage of United Airlines DC-4 which crashed in rainstorm after taking off from La Guardia airport, New York City, lies desolately in marshy area near the airport. Thirty-nine of the 48 persons aboard the four-engined liner perished in the flames following the crash.

TRAINING:
The Alternative

Adoption of a universal military training program which would make soldiers out of 950,000 American youths every year has been recommended by a nine-man presidential commission as an alternative to "extermination."

COMPTON

The commission, headed by Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, proposed that all physically and mentally qualified young men take six months of basic training on reaching the age of 18 years, to be followed by advanced training in the National Guard or reserves.

Warning that the only alternative to that and other multi-billion dollar outlays for national defense is "extermination," the commission painted a dire picture of what may be in store for the United States if a state of universal military readiness is not maintained.

A drop in the nation's state of readiness, notwithstanding our present monopoly of the atomic bomb, will encourage "those to whom weakness is a passport to aggression," the commission said.

It was estimated that cost of the program probably would run as high as two billion dollars a year, a sum, the commission said, which "we view with horror. But we recognize that weakness is an invitation to extermination."

The Reaction

Legislators were sharply divided over the universal military training issue, but members of both parties in congress generally concurred in the belife that no action would be taken at this session, which is scheduled to adjourn July 31. Both Republicans and Democrats, who have been tiptoeing around the universal training question since congress convened, were as yet not ready to commit themselves.

RENT BILL:
O. K'd by Senate

Federal rent controls will be retained until next March 1, but the bill authorizing extension of the controls also allows landlords and tenants to sign "voluntary" agreements to raise individual rents by 15 per cent.

More recently passed by the senate, the bill previously had been approved by the house in another version which also contained the voluntary increase feature. The final bill is expected to receive President Truman's signature before existing controls expire on June 30.

Under the voluntary increase plan, sponsored by Senator Hawkes (Rep., N. J.), landlords and tenants may agree mutually and "in good faith" to raise rents 15 per cent over levels in effect on September 1, 1946.

Republicans described the controversial proposal as a "wise" and "gradual" step toward eventual nation-wide rent decontrol; but Democrats denounced it as a "Damocles sword" over the heads of average-income tenants.

Senator Tobey (Rep., N. H.) frequent critic of GOP policies, said the voluntary boost amounted to "a pistol at the heads of the little people to come across or else—"

CROP LOSS:
Verge of Ruin

Crop losses running into hundreds of thousands of dollars appeared inevitable in the Middle West as farmers lagged two to five weeks behind in their planting of corn, oats and vegetables because of continuing heavy rains and low temperatures.

Corn, which should be in the ground by June 7 to avoid losses by frost before it matures, was only about one-third planted in the region at the beginning of June.

As a result of the unfavorable weather, the acreage planted in oats is far below normal, and the oats that are in are not doing well.

At the same time, American Farm Bureau federation officials were predicting that only about half the normal crop of peppers, carrots, asparagus, lettuce and other truck garden vegetables will be harvested this year because the fields have been too wet to be worked.

Fruit and berry crops have been damaged greatly by heavy rains in some areas also.

OIL SUPPLY:
Shortage Feared

The Middle West is faced with a real danger of shortages of petroleum products during the next 10 months, particularly if the coming winter turns out to be a severe one.

That prediction was made by Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the board of Standard Oil of Indiana, who said that the shortage appears probable despite the fact that the general level of the country's crude oil production, refinery runs and imports are setting new records.

Causes are an unprecedented growth in demand, coupled with a lack of transportation facilities. Greatest danger of shortage probably will be in distillate fuel oils, especially if the winter is severe, Dr. Wilson said.

He explained that the industry is taking extreme steps to offset the feared shortage, such as utilizing unusual and expensive methods to bring oil to the Middle West, pointing out that the fundamental shortage is in transportation.

DELUGE:
The Pope Warns

Pope Pius XII, in a speech broadcast around the globe, warned the world's peoples that they are "stuck and sinking" under the "terrible deluge" of postwar problems.

He declared that an "order of right and peace must be substituted for discord and violence," called for establishment of "normal good neighbor relations," and voiced the hope that the nations' leaders might not miss their opportunity. "It might—God forbid—be the last."

Speaking of the repeated failures to conclude peace agreements, the Pope warned that "a succession of fruitless" conferences may cause "the people to lose faith and patience."

"If there is anything to be fearful of, it is fear itself," he said.

Big Job Market Seeks College Grads

College men who are being graduated in this spring of 1947 have only to look beyond the limits of their campuses to see the biggest job market of all time awaiting them.

That fact was brought to light by an employment survey of 113 colleges and universities conducted by Northwestern National Life Insurance company. The survey disclosed also that the booming demand will absorb all available women graduates at most of the schools.

Placement officials of 64 schools state that most of their graduates were placed before commencement and that they expected the rest to be employed within a few weeks following that event. Briefly, 98 of the 113 schools estimated 90 to 100 per cent placements by July 1.

From 80 to 90 per cent of the male graduates on most campuses are veterans, and more than half of them are married.

DISASTER:
Accidents Mount

Death rode in the pilot's cockpit for 169 air travelers around the world over the Memorial Day weekend, producing an appalling series of at least five fatal airplane crashes, including one that ranks as the worst disaster in the history of United States commercial aviation.

Plane crashes that weekend were:

FIFTY-THREE KILLED when Eastern Air Lines plane crashed in flames near Port Deposit, Md., Friday.

FORTY KILLED when U. S. army courier plane struck mountain southwest of Tokyo Thursday.

THIRTY-NINE KILLED, nine hurt, when United Air Lines plane crashed during takeoff at LaGuardia field, New York, Thursday.

TWENTY-FIVE KILLED when Icelandic Airways plane hit mountain in northern Iceland Thursday.

TWELVE KILLED in collision between two planes near Tillburg, Netherlands, Thursday.

The Eastern Air Lines tragedy, in which every one of the 53 persons aboard the liner was killed, has been accounted the worst crash in this country's commercial aviation history. Eyewitnesses said the big luxury plane seemed to explode in the air, sending pieces of the fuselage raining to the ground near Port Deposit, Md.

At the same time, traffic fatalities for the holiday weekend soared to 214, far ahead of the 164 over Memorial Day last year, but well under the 275 predicted by National Safety council.

THE DOCTRINE:
It Is Applied

In line with the Truman doctrine designed to stem the tide of Communism, the United States cut off a 15 million dollar credit to Hungary's new pro-Communist regime and at the same time promised further aid to the non-Communistic government in Italy.

The credit was suspended following swift-moving events in Hungary which saw Premier Ferenc Nagy ousted and a new pro-Communist government head, Lajos Dinnyes, installed. Dinnyes subsequently announced that he would institute a three-year plan for Hungary similar to Russia's five-year plan.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall, meanwhile, wished every success to the newly reorganized Italian government under Premier Alcide de Gasperi and promised continuing United States aid to Italy.

Teddy the Fourth

Theodore Roosevelt IV, great-grandson of Pres. Theodore Roosevelt, holds block of stamps which he will present to President Truman during visit to White House. Stamps commemorate events in life of his grandfather, Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., who died in action in France in July, 1944.

FOOD CONTROLS:
Weather Cited

Unseasonable spring weather which has hampered the sowing of corn, oats and barley and the planting of soybeans has been cited in support of President Truman's request that congress continue for another year the government's authority to control the export of scarce foods, now scheduled to expire June 30.

Danger in letting that authority die, officials say, is that the United States might have its supplies raided by foreign buyers, causing new shortages and higher prices.

Under existing controls, the department of agriculture allocates definite amounts of scarce foods to various foreign areas which are allowed to take no more than their allocations.

Unrestricted foreign buying would be concentrated largely on grains, particularly wheat and corn. Moreover, European countries could be expected to purchase great amounts of feed grains in order to increase their livestock production.

Crest of the News
FARM INCOME

Total farm income during the first quarter of this year amounted to $5,828,000,000 as compared with $4,529,000,000 in the same period a year ago, according to the Alexander Hamilton institute. It was the highest income in any first quarter on record, and the upsurge was caused largely by the increased prices that farmers received for their products. Percentage of gain was 28.6.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Here's to the Women-Folk!

There's a line at the heading of the Woman's Column in my paper that reads:

"Women through the years have stood Keepers of the flame . . ."

Pretty easy to see what it means; whether it's the flame on the hearth, or the candle in the window, or the feeling of warmth that surrounds a home.

It's the women who are guardians of the things we cherish about homelife—who are tolerant of ashes on the rug; the rings a glass of beer can leave on tables; or the comfortable but too-worn chair that we can't bear to throw away.

From where I sit, those little satisfactions become more and more important in this world of strife and change. Smoke rings curling from a mellow pipe; a glass of beer; a comfortable chair before the fire. And I'd like to salute the housewives — "keepers of the flame" — whose tolerance and understanding helps preserve them!

Atom Bomb Seen As News Guide

Mighty Weapon Demands New Perspective, Declare Special Writers.

NEW YORK.—No proper evaluation of the news today can be made without the atomic bomb as the frame of reference, William L. Laurence, New York science reporter, told 500 students here.

"The worst thing we can do is to allow ourselves to be lulled to sleep behind an atomic Maginot line," Laurence said, speaking to teachers attending a course on "Evaluating the News."

Hanson W. Baldwin, military analyst, who shared the program with Laurence, declared that the atomic bomb had completely changed the problem of security.

Effective Control.

"The paradox of American 'security' in the year 1947 is that there is no 'defense'—using the word in its narrow term," Baldwin said. "Never before has the old aphorism that a strong offense is the best defense been so true."

Laurence said that there could be no security unless the nations of the world could work out an effective method for international control of atomic energy, a method that would make certain that no nation, great or small, could manufacture or possess atomic bombs or the fissionable materials in a form easily convertible into atomic bombs.

"Without such security there can be no peace, no matter what decisions are arrived at around the conference table in Moscow," he said.

What to Do.

Baldwin urged that the teachers, in trying to understand military news, do the following:

"Examine the source of the news, compare the news, beware of censorship, put the military news in perspective against the political and economic background and supplement the news with interpretation, commentary and opinion.

"Never consider military stories purely in the vacuum of that subject alone. Military action can, and often does, affect political action and vice versa, and influence economic trends. Look not only for the military significance of a military story, but also for its political significance.

"Remember, particularly in military stories, that a war department policy, as officially announced and released to the press, does not necessarily reflect the feelings or the opinions of all the people in the army or even a full statement of the facts."

He listed as the two requirements for judging any story, military or otherwise, "a background of solid basic factual information, and an inquiring and even skeptical mind." He said, "Far too many people believe everything they read, with no critical evaluation of it."

United States Discloses It Nipped Nazi Revolt Plot

FRANKFURT. — United States army officials disclosed the smashing last July of a secret Nazi sabotage organization known as DFFB.

The saboteurs plotted to overthrow the German civil government, the army said. Their password was "12 carat diamond."

A headquarters command announcement said the underground network had been wiped out with the arrest of four former high-ranking Storm Troop officers. The four went on trial before a military government court, charged with "acts hostile to the interests of the Allied forces."

The arrests had been kept secret for eight months, the army said, to permit investigation of the organization's ramifications "outside the American zone of Germany."

Black-market dealings financed the plotters, who intended to use secret radio transmitters to call upon the German people to join in the movement, an army spokesman said.

Explosion of Chemistry Set Turns Youth to New Career

COLUMBUS, OHIO. — Freddie Renault Jr., 9, decided against future attempts to advance science.

Home from school for several days with glandular fever, he had whiled away the time with his chemistry set. Then the "invisible ink" exploded, setting his room aflame.

After his mother and firemen had extinguished the blaze with only nominal damage, Freddie announced that he would become a tap-dancing teacher when he grows up.

New Radio Frequency Solves Some Technical Problems

MOSCOW. — A new frequency—the fourth and best tried—has relayed loudly and clearly the "Voice of America" broadcast to Russia and has partly solved the technical problems of the project, United States embassy officials said.

Munich Radio, which beams the U. S. state department's hour-long Russian-language program into the Soviet Union from New York, tried the 25.27-meter band and, for the first time, piped in the broadcast with no interference from European stations.

Modern Indian

An Indian named Joe wowed a small Canadian community with his uncanny way of predicting changes in the weather. On a sunny day, along would slink Joe and say: "Bimeby rain come."

One day it was particularly miserable—rain, wind, cold. "Joe," inquired a hunter, "when will all this blow away? Bimeby nice day?"

The red man shrugged. "Dunno," he replied, "radio he broke."

Mysterious 'River of Woe' Flows Again, Is Bad Omen

LONDON.—England's "River of Woe," a stream that appears mysteriously and just as mysteriously disappears, is flowing again for the first time in nine years—to the terror of superstitious folk who believe it is a warning of disaster.

Sometimes known as the Caterham "woe water" and sometimes simply as Croydon Bourne, the river last coursed through the Caterham valley near London in 1938—just before a typhoid epidemic claimed 43 lives in the region.

Earlier appearances were recorded during the great plague of 1665 and during World War I, when each of the stream's three "rebirths" preceded Allied military reverses.

But L. V. Gordon, Caterham urban council surveyor, scored the belief that there is anything supernatural about the "woe water," and asserted that it is merely the result of unusually heavy rainfall.

United States Reserves Win Veteran Job Privileges

WASHINGTON.—The U. S. court of appeals ruled two to one that former members of the coast guard reserve were entitled to veterans' preference on government jobs.

The decision upheld injunctions to prevent the civil service commission from firing a former coast guard reservist from the war department and another from the navy department on grounds they were not entitled to veterans' status any more than civilians who worked with the armed forces or Red Cross representatives who served in combat areas.

Peacetime Use for Rocket Considered

Research Engineer Turning Up Interesting Ideas.

SEATTLE. — Once more Americans will see a familiar sight—a rocket's red glare.

This time, however, according to Willy Ley, rocket expert and research engineer for Washington Institute of Technology, it will be put to peacetime uses.

Chimney sweeps, mountain climbers, fishermen — whose pursuits were little altered by industrial revolution—will find even they can't escape the coming rocket revolution.

Improved methods of rocket manufacture and dropping costs have made unlimited postwar uses feasible.

Ley suggested reaming factory chimneys, emergency safety lines strung by slipping Alpinists, and even surf casting up to 1,000 feet by reclining, weak-armed fishermen—all by rocket.

Already it is recorded that Swiss engineers have used rockets to string wires over mountains, break up hail storms and deliver mail.

The day is near when mail between London and New York may be delivered by rocket, Ley thinks. Automobiles by a reversed rocket action may be braked instantly on icy hills.

Ley promises aids to the skier. With rope attached to a rocket gun, he will be able to snake a line to the crest of the slope he just descended and thus pull himself up. Then there's stump-pulling — maybe. Or hot lunches dispatched to isolated ranchers or rangers.

American experiments with rockets for peacetime use have included trials in braking, aircraft landing in restricted spaces, boosting motorless gliders in the air and improved life-saving, line-carrying rockets.

Other uses that suggest themselves are bridging chasms, fire fighting, foamite-loaded rockets and possibly—hunting. A leashed rocket with harpoon-like head may bring down ducks, eliminating retrievers.

Sharp Increase Noted In Overall Food Costs

WASHINGTON. — The bureau of labor statistics reports that on February 15 overall food prices were 95 per cent above August, 1939; 31 per cent above a year ago, and only three per cent below the all-time high of last December after President Truman's general decontrol order.

It said prices dropped 0.8 per cent from mid-January to mid-February but that they probably have jumped again since then. It said the decrease undoubtedly would be wiped out by sharp increases on the wholesale market. Wholesale prices jumped about 8 per cent between February 1 and March 15.

BLS attributed the decrease chiefly to declines in eggs, dairy products and meats. But these decreases were more than offset by a rise in fruit, vegetable, cereal and bakery products.

Widow Beaten in Court Fight For Estate of Mussolini

ROME. — The court of cassation rejected the appeal of Mussolini's widow against government confiscation of the dictator's estate.

The court sent back to a lower court for reconsideration, however, a decision confirming confiscation of the estate of Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law and foreign minister.
